The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document provides a detailed list of items that should be tracked, such as inventory levels, accounts payable, and accounts receivable. It also outlines the procedures for reconciling these accounts and identifying any discrepancies.

The second part of the document focuses on the classification of expenses. It explains how different types of costs should be categorized based on their nature and purpose. For example, direct materials and labor are classified as manufacturing costs, while overhead expenses are treated as indirect costs. The document provides a clear framework for allocating these costs to the appropriate cost centers and then to the final products. This process is essential for determining the true cost of production and for setting competitive prices.

The third part of the document addresses the issue of depreciation. It discusses the various methods used to calculate the value of fixed assets over their useful lives. The straight-line method is the most common, but other methods like the declining balance and the sum-of-the-years-digits are also mentioned. The document explains how depreciation affects the financial statements and how it is recorded in the general ledger. It also provides examples of how to calculate depreciation for different types of assets.

The fourth part of the document covers the topic of inventory valuation. It discusses the different methods used to value inventory, such as the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method and the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method. The document explains how these methods affect the cost of goods sold and the ending inventory value. It also discusses the importance of physical inventory counts and how they are used to verify the accuracy of the accounting records.

The fifth and final part of the document discusses the preparation of financial statements. It outlines the steps involved in calculating the net income, the cost of goods sold, and the ending balances for all accounts. The document provides a clear format for presenting these statements and explains how they are used by management and external stakeholders. It also discusses the importance of auditing these statements to ensure their accuracy and reliability.

Hobart celebrates traditional July 4th

"In our little town, we grew up believing . . ."

The words to a popular song, yes, but also a very real description of Hobart. Our little town is now celebrating a very big national bicentennial. We do it every day in every way we live. Whether its pledging allegiance to the flag, awing at the fireworks, belonging to patriotic organizations, or teaching young children what American is all about, we confirm the fact that our little town is very American. We are free to walk down Main Street, voice our opinions in town government, and be with the people in the places we know and love. Hobart, on the 4th of July or in winter, spring, or summer, no matter how small, is our community and our life.

1. Past and present servicemen join in celebrating our nation's birthday by marching in the July 4th Parade.

2. The 1976 Indiana license plates also commemorate our Bicentennial year.

3. The Boy Scouts display their meaning of our independence with a float.

4. The Parade is not for the older generation alone. Even the youngest ones are allowed to see it.

5. A Hinson student, portraying Betty Ross, works hard at making our first flag.

6. Our 50-star, red, white and blue flag freely flies in front of the school and hangs in all classrooms.

7. The Colored Guard practices formation for their annual Federal Inspection.

8. Among the Fourth of July activities were the many displays of fireworks.

Driving Range construction underway

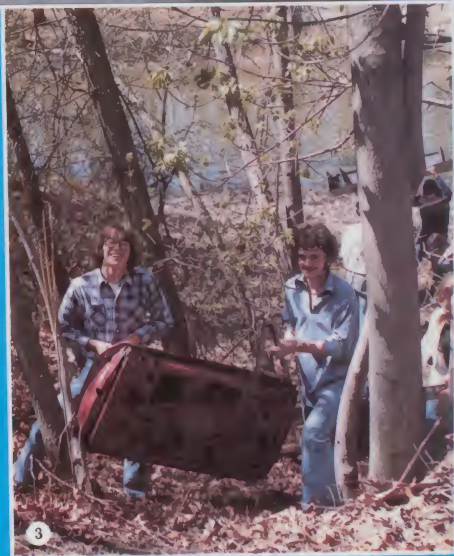

Plans for the new Driver's Education program were a long time in the making, but this spring things got underway. The new driving course was slated to be completely done and ready for classes by June 30. Construction being done in the Little League baseball field for the simulated driving range was supervised by everyone. Instructors for the new style program will be Mr. Stewart Hammell and Mr. Moe Rhody. When asked about student enrollment in the Driver's Ed program, Mr. Rhody said, "The program will handle 360 students a year, 180 every semester." As most sophomores enroll in the class, enrollment will be on a "first come-first serve" basis. The course will be a total of 52 hours, 30 hours of class, 12 hours of simulation, eight hours on the new range, and two hours at the wheel. This exceeds the Indiana State Requirements.

1. A construction worker sands the new floor in the driver's education building.
2. Men set up wood blocks in preparation for pouring concrete.
3. Lumber was a necessity in remodeling the old Little League baseball building.
4. Work continues as the deadline for completion draws nearer.
5. Construction crew members take a break in their busy day of work on the range.

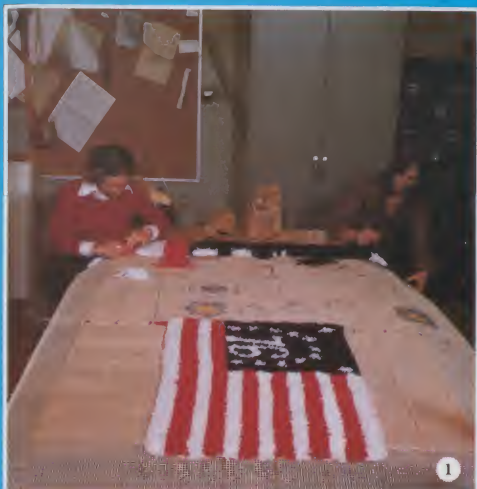

1. Seniors Kathy Kobert and Lori Knight add some decoration to Miss Lach's room with a bicentennial drawing.
2. This poster depicts an art student's idea of our bicentennial year.
3. In an effort to clean up around the school, seniors Dick Steuzinger and Mike Paris find a car door which was deposited near the lake.

HHS Bicentennial celebrations vary

Two hundred years ago, our forefathers decided to carve their own paths. A nation was born. Now we celebrate a bicentennial birthday, and the way do typifies our proud and varied American spirit. Our year is based on that celebration and how we may or may not accept it. Many feel a deep loyalty and patriotism, others a deep disgust in its commercialism, while some are merely unaffected. Hobart High responded with bicentennial garbage cans, graduation tassels, and various bulletin boards. But, no matter how each of us felt about the bicentennial, we did celebrate. Faculty, students, and administration all proclaimed their special celebration, their party, their laughter, their individual style. And when the "Spirit of '76" is past, we'll remember that this was our year and that we did celebrate.

1. Juniors Pat Horn and Joe Cudazy work on the flag which is to be hung in the auditorium. A miniature one look rug shows what it is to look like.

2. This bulletin board in Mr. Shruder's class shows scenes in our country today.

1. Senior Theresa Greenwell deeply concentrates on sketching an environmental scene for her art class.

2. For their chorus class, Julie Peters and Lisa Pope perform a commercial on karate lessons.

3. Being able to socialize while doing their work, art students enjoy doing their assignment.

Learning is what school is all about. Each teacher and each student has his own part. Whether it be a language class or a gym class, concentrating on developing your knowledge is what teachers and students are trying to achieve. Classes is where this learning takes place. Every class has its level of criticism. This criticism hurts the student and the class but for the most part it doesn't destroy the basic idea of learning.

Although there is no true way to determine how much a student has learned, the HHS deploys the familiar grading system of A through F. Most students don't celebrate getting straight A's, but one thing is certain, most do Celebrate learning.

1. Earth Science students Ed Pilarski, Sid Paxton and Todd Finan go back to class after taking a pacing test.

CLASSES

Students construct own ideas in shop

Advanced wood shop classes built shelves in the football concession stand and refinished antiques, while the general woods classes made speaker cabinets, cedar chests, tool boxes, and gun cases.

After getting the basic concepts of electricity, students in electricity classes could make strobe lights, color organs, and radios from kits. They also learned house wiring techniques, a good background of the skill. Students were required to do two kit form projects and to repair any other broken appliance they had at home.

Students in drafting classes gained insight in how to visualize objects from three different views, to see how things are made from a set of plans, and to draw a floor plan of their home.

Besides having to turn in a written report, oral report, and notebook, power Mechanics enrollees learned how to perform tune-ups on their own or their parent's car and worked with small engines.

1. Cleaning a ceramic piece for art class, Carolyn Aton prepares for the final touches.
2. Taking time for welding bumpers in metal shop Calvin Caldwell applies to shop safety rules.
3. In print shop Mark Anderson and Stanley Dick are concentrating on running the heidelberg.

1. Arranging a layout pattern for print, John Barth and Jim Johnston concentrate on Mr. Parker's ideas.
2. In Miss Alt's Home Ec. class Pam Grachowski makes a homemade apple pie.
3. Sketching scenes of Lake George and surrounding trees in the park are Pat Horn and Virginia Redding.

Science classes take field trips

Going on field trips instead of going to your classes is usually a lot of fun, and educational too. The science classes took a number of trips this year. They went out to the dunes at the National Lakeshore, twice down to Sullivan's Cave, and to the Planetarium in Chicago. Math students who qualified, went to the regional math contest held in Crown Point. The old math books were replaced this year for nearly all of the math classes, and the Comprehensive Senior Math course was replaced by the College Algebra course. There was a change in teaching methods, also, with more recognition given to the needs of vocational tech students.

1. In beginning biology class sophomores Evanthia Batistatos and Meme Pavovich study onion cells.
2. Becky Brooks sets the timer for Dave Strom as he prepares to take a psychology test.
3. Hobart's Little League park offers science students chances to study ecological succession of the area.

1. Finding out the melting point of wax is Junior Joel Wesley as he works the experiment in Chemistry.
2. With the help of the meter stick Mr. Robb tries to teach students about the metric system.
3. Bryn Anderson constructs a circle with a compass for his geometry assignment.

Research paper class offered

A new class was offered this year as an alternative to second semester government for interested seniors. Research Paper, taught by Mr. Larry Shrader, was designed for students who are good at writing and research.

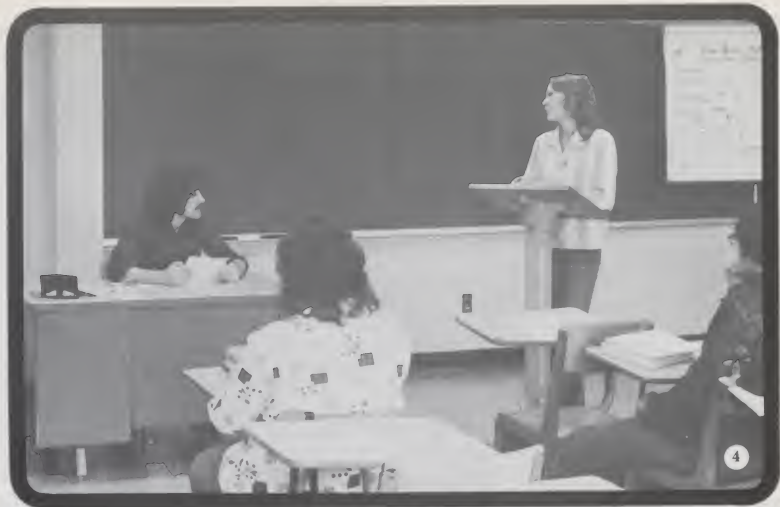

Social Studies activities numbered high: classes went to Criminal Court, City Hall, Park and School Board meetings, and City Council and Plan Commission meetings. Former warden of the Michigan City State Prison and a representative from NIPSCO came as guest speakers, and U.S. History students put up bicentennial decorations in both Principal Deal's office and Mr. Shrader's room.

More foreign language courses were offered on all levels this year, and with the mid-year retirement of French and English teacher Mrs. Pat Friedrich, guidance counselor Mrs. Janet Robbins took over some classes. Chicago welcomed foreign language clubs members on their annual day of fun and learning.

1. Surrounding an American bicentennial flag Cathy Brown and Karen Chontos put presidential photos by it.
2. Republican nominee Paul Sohni addressed Mr. Shrader's class on his ideas for mayor.
3. For an oral report in Spanish class Eleanor Galindo and Becky Zander show souvenirs from Mexico.
4. Performing a government skit, Judge Thom Pera listens to Donna Tabor, the accused, tell her story.
5. Speaking as candidate for mayor, Cal Greene talks to Pam Witt about the qualifications for the job.
6. A special speaker from Germany came to Mr. Wuchner's class, telling of life in rural Germany.

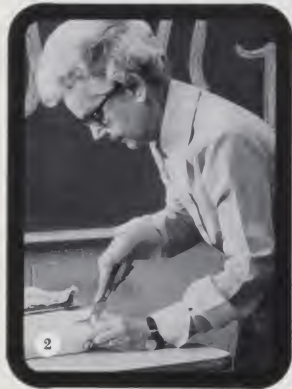

New classes change old English course

Along with the required grammar, juniors were given a choice of nine week courses in vocabulary, short stories, nineteenth century authors, twentieth century authors, and war and its literature. This offered students a change in the traditional English course, and gave them a chance to have a variety of different teachers.

Besides gaining a broader view of what the Bible includes, students in the Biblical Literature class visited a Jewish temple to learn more about those peoples which they studied in the Old Testament.

By looking at all aspects of the theatre, drama students had an opportunity to view it as an art form and also gained good experience for college or community theatre. In addition to helping with many of the productions, drama students studied the history of the theatre, acting, make-up, costuming, props, production, lighting, and set design. In the spring they had a student teacher.

1. To make the perfect meal, senior Sue Shapely demonstrates how to fix a submarine sandwich.
2. Cutting a sheet cake at her party, Mrs. Friedrich plans to retire after teaching French and English.
3. Applying make-up ideas to junior Jodee Truitt's face gives her a different appearance.
4. Gathering information for a controversial issue, Betty Jackson and Lisa Mazurek work on an editorial.
5. Doing a commercial for a television show in mass media, Mary Petro advertises a special plant food.
6. Selling razor blades to fellow classmen is not easily done as Joe Frisco realizes in mass media.

1. In Mrs. Heller's business class, senior Debbie Marcinko works on a billing machine.
2. Working with his house construction at a Gary Tech school, Junior Ricky Kekrby laughs at his work.
3. Teaching grade school children the proper rules in gym class, Ken Wring acts as teacher at Foreman.

3. Determined to be the overpowering one, Coy Gilland tightly grips his Chesterton opponent.

Brickie athletes have a lot to celebrate at Hobart High. All the hard work and effort put forth brings its many rewards. Gaining more than a hundred yards, being named All-Sate, or making a "hole in one" are just a few of the credits that can be accomplished. But what really counted to Brickie athletes and fans alike over the whole season was to win. Kicking the field goal or making the free throw that won the game or being sectional champs were the true rewards. To go to the football games or wrestling matches and come away with a victory was what the fans really cheered about. No matter how many opponents were pinned or homeruns hit, victory was the big thing to "Celebrate" at Hobart High.

SPORTS

Small Brickies produce big 8-2 record

Tremendous determination, dedication, and hard work turned a physically small Brickie football team into a major state power.

Finishing the season 8-2, the Brickies came in second in the Duneland Conference only to state champion Valparaiso, and ranked 8th in the state in the final Associated Press poll. Hobart's defense was what really held the Brickies together, letting only 61 points come in throughout the whole season, against one of the toughest schedules in the state. "This is the best defensive team I've ever coached, and probably the best Hobart's ever had," said defensive coach Tom Kerr. Seniors Ed Pilarski, Sid Paxton, Jerry Spicer, and Mike Dominick were elected captains for the 1975 season. All-Conference selections from Hobart were offensive tackle Ed Rumley, offensive guard Mike Dominick, quarterback Jerry Spicer, inside linebacker Steve Mitchell, safety Sid Paxton, and defensive end Scott Houck. Halfback Joe Galovic received honorable mention. For the first time this year, girls served as managers.

1. Receiving the kickoff in the end zone, Senior halfback Brian Ooms prepares to return against highly ranked Chesterton.

2. This was Hobart's first year with girl managers, and they proved successful as Dena Benzer helps Kev Woitysiak with the water pump.

3. Limping his way down the sidelines, Senior Chip Greenberg is knocked out of action after breaking his leg against hard hitting Andean.

National record set by Senior Jerry Spicer

"This is the hardest working team I've ever coached," stated Head Coach Don Howell. The Brickies placed six players on the All-Duneland Conference second team. On offense Seniors Bob Ames, Brian Ooms, and Bob Hubbell were selected. On defense Steve Gallagher, Junior Bill Wilfong, and Senior Sid Paxton were selected.

Hobart's only losses of the season were to rivals Andean in an overtime thriller, which according to most people was poorly refereed, and a one-point heartbreaking overtime loss to state champion Valparaiso. Hobart was ranked 8th in the state with their No. 3 defense pitted against Valpo's No. 1 offense. Duneland scoring champ Jerry Spicer surprised Valpo on Hobart's first offensive possession with a quarterback rollout for a 31 yard touchdown. Hobart led at the half 7-0, becoming the first team to shut-out Valpo's powerful offense in the first half this season. Finding themselves behind 17-14 in the fourth quarter Jerry Spicer came in to tie the score with his national record 61-yard field goal.

Hobart suffered a heartbreaking 24-23 overtime loss but Hobart still remained 8th in the state. The Brickies landed senior outside linebacker Ed Pilarski, and junior defensive halfback Joe Galovic on the All-State first team. Senior Jerry Spicer was second team All-State and Duneland scoring champ.

1. Tying the score against Valpo, Duneland scoring champ Jerry Spicer boots a national record 61-yard field goal in a heartbreaking 24-23 loss.

2. Going into overtime against the Vikings, Coach Howell and Coach Kerr go over some offensive strategy before the Brickies' possession.

3. Facing a wall of Vikings, quarterback Jerry Spicer scrambles for yardage which led to a first down.

1. As the Crown Point center prepares to snap the ball, the tough Brickie defense tightens up to deny the Bulldogs any yardage.

2. With Senior Scott Houck leading the way, All-State punt returner Joe Calovic scoots towards the sidelines enroute to a touchdown.

3. The face of defensive end Scott Houck shows the agony the team went through after the crushing loss against Valpo in overtime.

Undefeated reserves compile 7-0-1 record

Hard work and dedication was also the story for reserves, as they overpowered the weaknesses of a small group and produced an undefeated season. Leading the team were Terry Bailey, Dave Carp, Alex Koleff, Bill Sedoris, and newcomer Jim Stolarz.

The only blemish left on the almost perfect record was a bruising 8-8 tie with rival Andrean. Averaging 22 points per game, the Brickies showed a very powerful offense with a fairly strong defense, allowing only 7 points per game. The Brickies gave fine performances against Chesterton, Crown Pt., Portage, and LaPorte, scoring a total of 85 points against these teams, and letting the opposition score none. The Hobart football teams proved this year that hard work, dedication, and most of all teamwork, will produce a winning team.

1. A time-out is called for an injury as the ref checks if Jim Schiller is all right.

2. In a hard fought game against Valpo, Jim Stolarz races towards the end zone for another touchdown.

3. Surrounded by Vikings, fullback Dave Karp breaks loose for another first down in a high scoring affair against Valpo.

Tennis team takes Andrean Invitational

The greatly improved Hobart tennis team ended the season with a 12-9 record; and brought home the Andrean Invitational Trophy. "This is the most significant thing the team has done to date," according to Coach Tom Wuchner. Participating in more matches than in previous years, the netmen were more victorious than any other Brickie tennis team in the history of HHS.

Finishing the year with outstanding records were Seniors Tom Pendergrass, Kevin Louthan, and Junior Bill O'Brien, the last two having over 20 wins and a combined total of only 5 losses. Other seniors who will be missed next year are Bob Curtis, Steve Campbell and Rich Rogala, who contributed to many victories. Underclassmen Bob Green, Chris Murray and Andy Spoentgen also contributed to many Brickie Victories.

Harriers limp through winning season

Plagued by injuries, the Hobart Harriers limped through a fine 8-2 record, highlighted by Senior Bill Bowman's record breaking run in the Hobart Invitational. Bill Bowman also ran impressively in the Hobart Sectional placing second, and coming in first in almost every meet, proving to be the workhorse of the team. Several good performances were also turned in by freshman Garry Goodwin, who ran an outstanding race in the Sectionals to help the Brickies advance to the Regionals. Junior Al Huber ignited late in the season to also help boost the team to the Regionals. "The team was plagued with injuries, the worst we've ever been hit with," stated Coach Don Hancock. He also added "after the second meet we never had our top five together in good form." Despite the injuries, the Harriers still produced a winning season.

Brickettes capture second sectional title

For the second straight year the Hobart volleyball team captured the sectional title by defeating Merrillville and River Forest in the play-offs and then handily defeating East Gary in the final. After a week's celebration over the sectional victory, Hobart faced Valpo in the regionals and was defeated in two straight games by 15-3 scores.

The girls ended the season with a 10-5 record and a fourth place finish in their first appearance in the Westville Invitational Tourney. Throughout the season Hobart was led by Senior Barb Fraley, who was selected to the All-Conference team for the second year in a row. Barb Logan and Tami Cope made up the team's strongest back line with the strongest front line consisting of Sally Daugherty and Barb Fraley. The Brickettes will be losing three of their starting seniors including their most consistent server, Barb Logan.

Record 9-1-1

1. At the Hobart Invitational, Coach Gary Burkhart gives his opinion of the referees decision.
 2. Putting another victory away, Senior Jim Lukanich gave himself another win towards his Duneland Conference Championship.

Hobart wrestlers take three tourneys

Grappling towards another successful season, the varsity wrestling team ended the season with a 9-1-1 record losing only to tough Lowell, and tying Duneland co-champion La Porte. The Brickies had to share the Duneland Conference title with La Porte, defeating Valpo, Portage, Michigan City Rogers, Merrillville, and Chesterton. The Brickies also took the Hammond Tourney, Wirt Triple Dual, and the Hobart Invitational respectively. Senior Tri-Captain Jim Lukanich and Junior Coy Gilland, both with a 16-3 record, took the Duneland Conference Championship. Junior Coy Gilland also went undefeated in dual meets, posting an 11-0 record, and an excellent 27-3 record overall.

1. 1975-76 Varsity Wrestling Team — ROW 1 — J. Manfred, T. Hamilton, J. Lukanich, B. Rosenbaum, M. Bonner, S. Wyatt, J. Hamilton; ROW 2 — Coach G. Burkhart, J. Crew, C. Gilland, S. Mitchell, D. Kepshire, J. Fisher, and B. Willfong
 2. Walking off victorious, Junior Terry Hamilton contributed another win that helped Hobart beat Valpo.

Gilland Hobart's first semi-state champ

Five seniors guided the Brickies this year: Jim Hamilton, Jim Lukanich, John Manfred, Steve Mitchell, and Don Kepshire.

They steered the grapplers in the right direction as Hobart swept the sectional championship trophy. Hobart placed 10 wrestlers in regional competition, and 5 of them took the sectional championship. Stan Wyatt, Brian Rosenbaum, Jim Lukanich, John Manfred, and Coy Gilland placed first in the sectionals. Junior Coy Gilland, and Senior Jim Lukanich placed second in the Regionals and qualified for semi-state competition. Lone survivor Coy Gilland, then became Hobart's first semi-state champion, sweeping the 155 pound class, and making him eligible to go down state. Although the Brickies will miss their five lost seniors, they still have an excellent foundation of juniors and sophomores for next year.

1. Hobart's first semi-state champ, Coy Gilland, is signaled the winner by the referee. Coy won the 155 pound class in semi-state.

2. Heavyweight Bill Wilfong, who was an asset to the team, eyes down his Merrillville opponent.

Brickie reserves compile 8-3 record

The 1975-76 reserve wrestling team gave a fine performance as they closed out the season with an 8-3 record. Led by heavy-weight Tom Wotysiak, the Brickies rolled over their first five opponents, before they finally fell to tough Highland. Their other two losses were to Lowell and Merrillville. Hobart defeated five out of six Duneland Conference teams they played, including Valpo, Portage, LaPorte, M.C. Rogers, and Chesterton. Showing considerably high margins of victory over their victims, the reserve wrestlers proved that they can make a good solid foundation for varsity. Defeating eight of their opponents by an average spread of 16 points, the reserve wrestlers have a promising future.

1. Tom Soms has his opponent pretty well tangled up en route to a victory.

2. Jeff Savage gets a reserve for a quick two points against the Chesterton man.

Brickies almost capture Sectional Crown

After the win over River Forest in the first game followed by a 62-57 victory over Hammond

High, the outlook for the rest of the season was good. Ironically the varsity basketball team finished with a disappointing 5-15 record, and lost their coaches after the season. But again irony was involved as the Brickies almost managed to take the sectional crown despite the season's record. As was expected Senior Brad Clemens ended up as Hobart's top scorer with 295 regular season points for a 14.8 points per game average. Runners-up to Clemens were Seniors Sid Paxton and Scott Houck with 204 and 187 points respectively. The Brickies traveled to Richmond to participate in the Richmond Tourney where they were defeated 91-60 by Richmond and then lost to Union County by a 59-49 score.

1. Displaying his quickness, Senior Brad Clemens fakes his Portage opponent to get around him.

2. Despite the Merrillville player's attempt at a block, Sid Paxton manages to get off a jump shot.

3. A look of anger and disgust passes over Kevin Miller's face as the referee makes a call against the Brickies.

Brickies put on probation; coaches resign

Hobart's future basketball teams will have to operate without the services of Jim Lichtenberger and Tom Workman. These two ex-coaches chose to resign after the season; their reason being the incidents that occurred on January 10 at East Gary, when the events that erupted placed all of our athletic teams on probation for one year. It also brought on a lawsuit against the Brickies. After this game, Hobart seemed to lose its steam.

In spite of this, they managed to fight their way to the finals in the sectionals. On their way to the finale they defeated Portage, a team that beat the Bricks in the regular season. Hobart then eliminated the Trojans of Chesterton to win the right to face Valparaiso in the game that would decide who would capture the sectional crown. The Brickies put up a good game, but it was a losing cause and Valpo became champs.

1. Battling with Portage, Jeff Hamilton and Rich Kobza try for a rebound.
2. At an early season practice, Senior Scott Houck works on his rebounding style.
3. The fast break is on with Jeff Hamilton and Sid Faxton trying to get open for a pass from Ken Wring.

4. Although it looks like they're playing volleyball, Scott Houck is really trying to intercept a pass with the help of Ken Wring.

Hobart's reserve basketball team was victim of a lot of criticism during the season. With a record of 3 wins and 15 losses they scored 642 points total while their opponents hit 834 points. The largest margin in the Brickies defeated a team by was 10 when they beat Lake Central by a 58-48 score. The other two wins were a five point victory over Hammond Highland a one point squeaker against Hammond Clark in the final game. Dave Karp was the Brickies' top scorer with 129 points for an average of 7.26. Jeff Barton was next with 90 points for an even 5.00 points per game average. Barton also shared top rebounding honors with Jeff Proffitt. The reserves had a lot of height in Barton, Proffitt, and especially in Larry Mosby. If these boys can get it together next season the outlook for the varsity is promising.

Hobart's young girl's basketball teams ended the season under .500, with a record of 4-7 for the varsity and a 1-7 mark for the JV squad. The offense was there but the inexperienced play on defense caused the problems. Senior Barb Fraley contributed most of the offensive punch with a total of 163 points on the season for a point per game average of 14.8. Juniors Sally Daugherty and Patti Smith followed with 119 and 66 points respectively for the varsity group. Top scorers for the JV's were Kathi Eickstead, Tammy Wagner, and Janet Sapper. In sectional play the girls defeated River Forest, 36-25, and gained the right to face Merrillville and were defeated by three points. The outlook for next year is unpredictable because the JV team set a record for scoring the most points for a JV squad when they beat East Gary in the final game of the season. This proves that they have the offense and need to build up their defensive play.

Basketball dominates intramurals interests

The intramural program was mostly basketball this year, due to the lack of interest in other activities that were previously offered. As usual, weightlifting was also offered, and for those who liked to bounce around, the trampoline was opened to them.

Due to other school activities, intramurals this year had an irregular schedule. Normally meeting every Tuesday and Thursday, intramurals often met only one day a week. But because of its long schedule, it was still successful. Intramurals met regularly from 7:00 to 9:00 and was directed by Don Howell. Attendance was good this year, averaging around 75 each night. Few girls attended this year, mainly because the locker room facilities were not available to them during intramurals.

1. Taking it out of bounds, Bob Green prepares to start another basketball game at intramurals.
2. Wrestling was also a favorite pastime at intramurals, as two students grapple on the balcony.
3. The trampoline was offered to anyone that wanted it, as Senior Jerry Spicer has his ups and downs.

Diamondmen stumble to an 8-13 record

The varsity baseball team was young and a little disorganized this year, and stumbled to an 8-13 record. The team has more talent than they showed, but weak pitching and poor hitting this year couldn't win games. Junior Kevin Miller was the leading pitcher on the team, posting a record of 4 wins and 6 losses. Junior Jeff Remijan was the leading hitter on the team with a .347 batting average. With 13 runs batted in, Jeff also broke a two-year old record this season by getting 25 singles, breaking the record by 1. The Brickies will lose only 2 seniors this year. The players returning next season will play a major role in the success of the team.

1. Trying to peg a Pirate, Sophomore Terry Baily covers base to foil the foes attempt to steal.
2. Senior Sid Paxton tallies another run for the Brickies in their Duneland Conference clash.
3. Keeping his eye on the ball, Junior Jeff Remijan prepares to swat the ball.

Brickie reserves harness 8-11 record

The 1976 Reserve Baseball team showed a fairly strong offense this year in posting a sagging 8-11 record. The team took 3 games in a row, beating Lake Central, M.C. Rogers and Chesterton, before getting surprised by Munster 10-1. Fine defensive play by Bill McCorkle, and strong pitching by Terry Bailey were key factors in the Brickies eight wins. Bailey pitched eight complete games, winning six and losing two. In eight games he allowed 35 hits while striking out 75 batters and walking 28. He had an earned run average of 1.20. In offense Dave Karp led the team with 24 hits for a .407 batting average, followed by Jim Stolarz with 17 hits for a .370 average. The team overall did a good job, and should make good varsity material.

Golf team suffers through losing season

The 1976 Golf Team ended the season with a 2-13 record despite the average of 40.7 that Senior Kevin Louthan maintained for nine holes.

Next was Jim Hamilton with a 42.7 average followed by Junior Dan Jordan who averaged 44.1. Louthan and Hamilton will be missed but Jordan will be back next year along with Chris Bliss, Kerry Mihalick, and Mark Hurak. Major letters were given to Jordan, Bliss, Bill

Trapp, and Mark Hansen. Minor letters were awarded to Hurak, Mihalick, Curt Binder, Sam

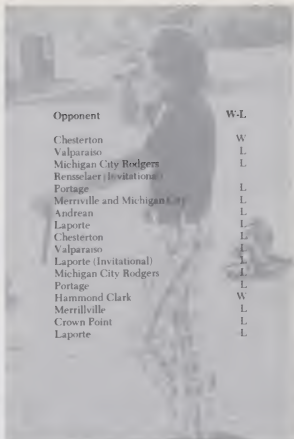

Paxton, Jack Moser, and Ron Kersey. Coach Elisha chose Jim Hamilton as most improved player and Kevin Louthan was picked as most valuable player for the season.

The '76 track team was comprised of 25 boys. This is a small squad compared to other years.

Of the 25 boys, three were seniors: Dan Sawicki, Bill Bowman, and Bob Johnson. Sawicki was a point getter as was Bowman in distance races, and Johnson was the top discus thrower on the team. Though these boys will be missed next year, there are boys who will take their place. Tim Dayhuff broke the record for the 100 yard dash with a 9.9 time and a 51.2 in the quarter miles. Cliff Springman should take over in the discus and shot put and Dan Reid in the pole vault and high jump. Al Huber has showed well in running events and should be a point getter next year.

Girls track falters from lack of depth

The 1976 tennis team had a rocky season this year, only managing one win out of seven matches.

Sally Daugherty led the team with a 4-3 individual record, followed by fellow junior, Kathy Dittrich with a 3-4 record. The young tennis team only carried one active senior, Pam Schmelter, who contributed two victories to the teams efforts.

The team will profit from their experienced underclassmen next year. The girls track team was smaller this year than last year, making it too difficult to match the depth of their larger opponents. Only 14 girls were on the team this year, with only two seniors. Barb Fraley and Gail Padish were strong members on the track and field team this year. Tami Cope, Pam Donovan, Barb Fraley, Sue Locke, and Theresa Smolinski all have gotten first place one or more times in various events throughout the season. The 440-yard relay team came in 5th place in Sectionals, and Sue Locke received 6th in the softball throw.

Participating in the many activities that school provides for the students is also educational. Getting involved, developing new ideas, and most of all, learning to work with others was what people sought. Although not everyone got into the swing of things, for those who did, the experiences they had won't be forgotten.

Many feelings of anticipation, frustration, and happiness arose in those involved in extra curricular activities. Talents some may not have been able to express in the classroom were "let out" in the pep session skits, plays, and talent show acts. As each did his part, the satisfaction of accomplishing something for himself was "Celebrated."

Visitors from England present convo

The student body was entertained by a number of pep sessions and convos this year. One very special event was the performance of "Danny and Dereh," a couple from England who accompanied themselves on the guitar and other instruments. Seniors Marc Pero, Joe Frisco, Don Brown, and Bill Davenport also got up on stage to help out and clown around. Students were invited to see an artist of ragtime piano playing on his tour of the country. The School Assembly Service also provided the opportunity for students to see Hatha Yoga, demonstrated by instructor Ed Schetter, who get assisted by junior Coy Gilland and seniors Jim Lukanich and Don Kepshire. The Navy Band also come to perform and got a very good ovation from the audience of both faculty members and the student body. Later in the year, the Ball State University Singers entertained everyone with a routine of dancing and singing songs. Members of the Genesis Players, the Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Shirley Mumaugh, performed "The Lottery" for the juniors. During football season there were many pep sessions, with an all-school attendance at a few. At the banquet of the basketball coaches and team, there were no pep sessions during basketball season.

75-76 Princesses reign at Homecoming

Football homecoming this year featured a queen and princesses instead of the traditional queen. Two princesses were chosen, one from the sophomore class, and one from the junior class, with the queen chosen from the senior class. Cathy Bamage was crowned football homecoming queen, while Lori Mitchell and Beth Hatfield were princesses. The cheerleaders conducted a "Spirit Week." The senior class, with the theme "Cannonball the Raiders," won the float competition. The theme of the dance was "Fall Memories," and music was provided by Cosmic Blues. The Brickies defeated the Michigan City Raiders by a score of 27-8.

Basketball homecoming festivities were highlighted by the crowning of Sharon McManus as queen. Her court consisted of Tammy Villa and Lori Sanders. The Brickies fell to the Raiders with a score of 69-61.

4. Lori Sanders, sophomore princess, and Jeff Baker look to the crowd with excitement and relief.

Lunch provides break in daily routine

Lunch hours at Hobart meant a variety of activities to a variety of students. Ice cream, crackers, cake, cookies, apples, and chocolate milk were sold in the cafeteria for those who preferred a light lunch. Others who wanted something more substantial took advantage of the 50¢ cafeteria meal or brought a sack lunch from home. Those who craved a hamburger and french fries risked being tardy and left the school grounds for a quick trip to Burger King.

Besides offering a chance to eat, the lunch hour gave students time to study in the library, to walk outside, or to just be with friends. For everyone, lunch hour was a welcome break in the routine of the day.

Students, faculty combine for school play

For the first time in the history of HHS dramatic productions, a play with a cast of both students and faculty members was performed and directed by a student, senior Karl Kochvar. Rehearsals for the spring play, "See How They Run," started in early December with Miss Cynthia Lach and Mr. Robert Zehr in the leading roles, who were helped out by Miss Diane Alt, Miss Helen Hopp, and students Paul Clayton, Steve Campbell, Jon Lindholm, and Bill Jenkins. The play was performed for the public on February 13 and 14. Despite production snags of absenteeism and conflicts with rehearsals of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" and the Talent Show, both performances came off well. The cast members of the fall play "The Man Who Came to Dinner" started rehearsing in mid-September under the direction of Drama Club sponsor Miss Shirley Mumaugh. The leading roles were played by senior Sue Parry and junior Jim Blaney. The play was performed on November 14 and 15, with combined audiences of over 500.

1. An escapee, Karl Kochvar is caught surprisingly by the guard Sergeant Towers (Jon Lindholm.)

2. Being old friends, Penelope Toop (Miss Lach) and Clive (Mr. Zehr) talk over old times.
3. Miss Alt, portayed as Ida, and Miss Hopp, as Miss Skillon, discuss Ida's latest date.
4. "Take me away from here," pleads Miss Skillon (Miss Hopp) to Rev. Humphrey (Steve Campbell).

AFS students show their many talents

Ricardo Aguirre and Nuh Mehmet Tas, this year's foreign exchange students, find life in the United States somewhat different from life in their countries when it comes to education. They both agree that schools are for study, with little emphasis placed on sports, which is not the case in the United States.

Ricardo, born in Guatemala City, Guatemala, is now living with the Earl Thompson family. Besides playing the piano and guitar, Ricardo speaks four languages other than Spanish, and enjoys soccer, billiards, and swimming. Ricardo hopes to someday become a lawyer and ultimately deal with American clients in his father's law firm.

Nuh will attend a Turkish university next year to study mechanical engineering, and will eventually enter his father's machine importing business. A native of Istanbul, Turkey, Nuh is now residing with the Leslie Luedtke family. Nuh likes sports, especially tennis, swimming, ice hockey, and soccer. Both Ricardo and Nuh were in the fall play.

Choral Dept. produces two musicals

For the first time, HHS students produced two musicals in one year: "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" and "Hello Dolly". Through the combined efforts of many students in both the casts and technical crews, performances were pulled off with "a high degree of professionalism" thought Director Robert Zehr and the large audiences attending. "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" was performed by choir members only, and there were six students in the cast: seniors Kim Belec as Lucy, John Ford as Linus, Doug McMillan as Schroeder, Bill Jenkins as Snoopy, and juniors Chris Wall as Patty and Keirn Gawthrop as Charlie Brown. Local grade school pupils were treated to their own showing of the musical and the public performances were on February 6 and 7. "Hello Dolly" had a much larger cast of 36, with a total of over 100 students working on the show in some capacity. Seniors Kim Belec as Dolly Levi, Bill Davenport as Horace Vandergelder, Steve Mitchell as Barnaby Tucker and John Ford as Cornelius Hackl had the leading roles. The musical was performed May 6 and 7, after eight weeks of rehearsal. Technical difficulties went mostly unnoticed due to fine performances by all.

Ticket prices lowered for Talent Show

"A Little Night Magic" was the theme of the 1976 Hobart High School's Yohannaire presented on February 27 and 28. Senior Bill Davenport was the Master of Ceremonies headed also by Senior Jill Pottorf, who was the chairperson of the Yohannaire. The show allowed for many personal touches and marks of individuality. Vocal solos were sung by Junior Eleanor Galeindo and Sophomore Toni Covington. Senior Kathy Berg along with Junior Mark Wesley performed a vocal duet. Musical entertainment consisted of a piano duet by Sophomores Roxanne Lies and Lori Glass, a drum solo by Senior Don Brown, a jazz group formed by members of the stage band, and a performance by the Rhythmx. Various acts included "The Box" and "The Mouth Family." To muster a better turnout, the admission prices were lowered from previous years. The money raised from the talent show goes into the Student Council treasury where it is used for its annual scholarship. This year's Yohannaire sponsor was Mr. Robert Zehr.

Business Day privilege returns to seniors

After being discontinued several years ago, Business Day was reinstated this year with the approval of Hobart merchants, school administration, and the students. Open only to seniors, this program was in the fall, largely under the direction of Vice-principal Mr. William Cope. More than 40 seniors took part in it this year, and after an evaluation by all concerned, Business Day will be around next year, too. The springtime counterparts to Business Day were Government and Education Days. Over 100 seniors participated in them, with Education Day in two parts, one day for the students to observe; the other day, for them to take over. The local elementary schools all enjoyed the presence of some new faces for a couple of days. Government Day meant the city of Hobart was taken over by seniors for a day. Senior Mark McLeod was Mayor of Hobart for a day and Gail Padish was Clerk-Treasurer. Like Business Day, everyone involved in the program gave an evaluation of it afterwards.

1. On Business Day for seniors, Terry Weiderhold participates as a bank teller.

2. Seniors Chip Greenberg and John Manfred take part in the Government-Education Day as councilmen.

3. Carolyn Vossberg participates during Business Day as a saleswoman for Hobart Hardware.

4. Firemen for annual fire drill were Dennis Crouch, Kim Sepkowski and Dianne Peters.

5. During Education Day, Mick Husek tries to control his class of grade school students.

Over 140 couples attend Jr.-Sr. Prom

Approximately 140 couples attended the May 1 Junior-Senior Prom at St. Sava Hall. "We May Never Pass This Way Again" was chosen as the theme. Couples danced to the music of "Swing Machine" after dinner was served. The After-Prom, sponsored by the Sportsmen Club, featured "Copperhead," who brought tapes to be played during the frequent 15-minute breaks.

An unsuccessful variation from last year's Prom was a sign-up sheet for girls who wanted to attend the Prom but didn't have a date.

Senior Sid Paxton and Junior Janet Sharp reigned as King and Queen and led the Grand

March at the conclusion of the evening.

Many couples drove to Turkey Run or Warren Dunes for the day after Prom, and there they enjoyed hiking, playing softball, and picnicking.

5. Discussing plans for after-prom are Doug McMillian, Kathy Speer, Steve Kirk, and Kathy Berg.
6. Dancing to one of the slow dances that the band plays are Bob Green and Debbie Schavey.

Mayor Clerk election split in close race

The mayor-clerk elections for 1976-77 resulted in a split ticket with girls elected to both offices. Junior Tina Nordquist was elected mayor and sophomore

Becky Caldwell was elected clerk. Purple Party candidate for mayor, Rick Harrigan, took the loss in stride, but the vote was close. Only nine votes separated victory from defeat. Mayoral nominations were numerous. There were originally seven juniors up for mayor: Tom Ewigleben, Debbie Shavey, Dan Kellar, Bill Krosky, Bob Ray, Rick Harrigan, and Tina Nordquist. The sophomore nominees for clerk were Kristy Arnold, Jeanie Vinzant, Carolyn Miracle, Beth Gurband, Theresa Lipke, Dan Borchelt, and the victor

Becky Caldwell. The outcome of the two conventions that each lasted several hours was Purple Party candidates Rick Harrigan and Becky Caldwell, running against Gold Party candidates Tina Nordquist and Dan Borchelt. The community might have seen the annual parade featuring the candidates and their friends, while the student body was allowed two lunch hours. Voting was over a period of two days. Students could vote before, during, or after school in the old lobby.

Girls tie for both Class of '76 top honors

For the first time there was a tie for the titles of both valedictorian and salutatorian. With grade point averages of 4.0, Cindy Govert and Kathy Berg were the 1976 valedictorians. Sharon Roy and Sandy Yocum tied for salutatorian with averages of 3.95 each. The 297 seniors graduated May 26 with speakers Reverend James Curtis and Superintendent Kenneth Norris. Also senior Ed Rumley gave the benediction and the school band and Rhythmyx performed at the ceremonies. Mid-term graduation on January 25 was for 105 seniors, one-fourth the entire graduating class. The ceremony was much the same as the May graduation, with the school band and Acapella performing. Speakers at the Commencement exercises were President of the School Board Mr. Donald Sporre, Mr. Robert Allen, and Mr. Donald Frankenhauer.

3. One Salutatorian, Sandy Yocum, receives an award from Mr. Deal at the Senior Honor Convo.

4. One of the seniors takes advantage of sleeping in as one of the activities during Senior Week

Jazz band convo highlights Senior Week

Senior Week began with a special convo presented by the jazz band for seniors only. Tuesday the seniors were allowed to skip first hour, while Wednesday they were treated to a special cafeteria lunch. A lunch line for seniors only was the highlight of Thursday, and Friday they were dismissed one hour early. The following Monday, seniors were to report to school at the beginning of fourth hour.

The senior Honors Convocation was attended by seniors only. The Senior Class gift, a bicentennial plaque, was presented by Class President Bob Curtis. Dena Benzer and Ken Wring received the Danforth Award. The DAR award went to Cindy Covert. The American Legion Outstanding Student Award went to Ray Mitsch and Gail Padish. The Tri Kappa Outstanding Senior Girl was Kim Belec. Awards for activities were presented to Kim Belec and Karl Kochvar. The All-Around Athletes were Sid Paxton and Barb Fraley. Dick Stenzinger received the Student Council Scholarship. There were also awards for excellence in the areas of industrial arts, social studies, art and crafts, dramatics, ROTC, and foreign languages.

Clubs are a very beneficial part of school life. Each club presents the furtherance of education in the particular field and the ability to work and share ideas with other students. Togetherness plays a great part in today's society.

Although some students criticize clubs, they are still necessary. Any venture can only be what you make it. Involvement, participation, or whatever you want to call it, is what is needed to make clubs work.

Student participation meant going on field trips, making posters, having bake sales, and just having fun. Each student that worked hard and had fun was also there to "Celebrate" each accomplishment that was made.

Boosters revise club constitution

The Booster Club underwent a lot of changes this year, with the addition of two new officers, a new club constitution was put into action. The new officers were Terri Sliz and Jolinda Lucas, who, as recorders, took and recorded attendance at meetings. The other officers were Janet Sharp, president; Lori Sanders, vice-president; Marianne Miko, secretary; and Kathy Mansfield, treasurer. New officers will be elected in January now instead of May, so they can ask outgoing officers how to run the meetings, keep records, and take care of the books. Under the new constitution Booster Club members are allowed nine absences before their membership is dropped for a full year, instead of the old rule of only three allowed absences per year. Another new rule is that there will be two acting sponsors, with one at every event and meeting; so acting sponsor Mr. Ron Elisha won't have as much to do. The Booster Club sponsored many activities this year: the annual Powder Puff football game between junior and senior girls, decorating the halls and raising school spirit in preparation for the football game against Hobart's rival, Valparaiso; sponsored the Football Homecoming and sent flowers to Crown Point in memory of the basketball player who died in a Hobart-Crown Point game. When asked about the benefits of the Booster Club, Mr. Elisha said, "It gives students a chance to express their feelings for their team and a sense of being part of a winning tradition."

1. Before the Valpo game, Gwen Field, Sue Locke, and Mr. Elisha decorate the old lobby with balloons.

2. Senior Stingers rally in a pep session before they take on the Junior Jets.

Cheerleaders eliminate captain positions

Both reserve and varsity cheerleader squads decided to do something new this year: work together in committees instead of voting for captains and leaving responsibilities up to one girl. During the year they sponsored many activities: the girls raised funds during football season by selling buttons and having a bake sale. They conducted a spirit contest for the Basketball Homecoming, and sold carnations for Valentines Day. The cheerleaders worked with their sponsor, Miss Diane Alt, after school planning activities and practicing cheers. In early summer the girls attended Camp Smith-Walbridge in Syracuse, Indiana, and learned some new cheers and formations to bring back to Hobart. During the year, the cheerleaders raised school spirit and increased participation at pep sessions, too.

3. The Pom-Pon girls do their routine during halftime at a football game for the Brickie fans.

Raffle tickets buy Pom-Pon's uniforms

Backing a successful Brickie wrestling team was a group called the Matmaids. These girls video taped matches, took statistics for the wrestlers and their opponents, and were also scorekeepers and timers for the meets. Each girl was assigned a certain job and was usually found working at home meets. Those who did not have a specific job made posters and helped in the concession stands. Matmaids is open to any sophomores, while Juniors and seniors from previous years, vote on the number of new maids needed. If a girl misses two meetings or two meets, she is no longer in the club, if no excuse is given. The season was brought to a close with a pizza party at Nobel Romans.

The Hobart High School Pom-Pon Corps marched and performed during the '75-76 year with the addition of new uniforms. The outfits were purchased with the funds raised by the members of the squad who sold raffle tickets, the winning prize being a new TV. Directed by Mr. Herman Matlock, the girls, accompanied by the band, performed their routines during selected football and basketball Homecoming shows. To be a member of the corp, the girls had to audition for a position during the spring for the past year. The girls learn the coordination required to belong to a precision drill, dance group.

Junior Class sees 'Lottery'

The 1975-76 Genesisus players, along with the Thespians Troop 103, were active in many activities around HHS during the school year.

They produced and participated in "The Lottery" which was done as a convocation for the Junior Class when they were studying the play in English. Besides helping with both the Talent Show and "Hello Dolly," both clubs actively participated and sponsored "The Man Who Came to Dinner." The Genesisus Players is set up to further interest, participation, and excellence in the theatre arts. Also a part of the Genesisus Players, the Thespians, who participated in the same functions, is an International Honorary organization for theatre students. They gain membership by earning points in production.

Council offers students breakfast program

For the first time this year, students who were too rushed to eat breakfast at home had the opportunity to buy their breakfast at school. This breakfast program, sponsored by the Student Council, offered students a choice of rolls, orange juice, and milk.

Over $1,000 was collected by the Student Council from the Heart Fund Drive. They also participated in a project called the V.O.S.H. (Voluntary Optometrist for Service to Humanity) in which they collected over 600 pairs of old, unused glasses which were sent to Indianapolis to be prescribed and sent to underdeveloped countries to be put to good use. The Student Council was also responsible for a Muscular Dystrophy drive and collected $800 at the Talent Show.

In addition to these projects, the Student Council promoted a more lenient tardy system, and two amendments were made to the constitution of the Student Council. For the first time, students were allowed three tardies before they would have detention, and students were assigned partial detentions depending on the number of minutes they were late. The first amendment to the constitution pertained to the conduct rules. A Council member was allowed a one in conduct. The second amendment lowered the academic requirement to become mayor to a C average.

FTA sponsors scholarship for students

One of the activities of the FTA (Future Teachers of America) was sponsoring a yearly scholarship of from $200 to $500. They also sold Homecoming mums. The purpose of this club is to allow people interested in teaching as a career to get together with each other. Sponsoring the AFS weekend on November 7-9 and conducting International Night were some of the special activities planned by AFS this year. The program is designed to send students abroad and also to other parts of the U.S., and even includes a short term exchange. AFS gives the students and the community an opportunity to learn about the customs, etc., of foreign countries and to share our customs with the foreign students, such as this year's exchangers Ricardo Aguirre and Nuh Mehmet Tas.

1. FTA members — Mr. Hunt, sponsor; P. Zabilka, S. Parry, C. Ballard, S. Shapley.

2. To raise money for their club, Pat Zabilka and Mary Petro sell a homecoming mum to Steve Kirk

ROW THREE: M. Curtis, L. Easton, B. Ray, T. Dayhuff, M. McCord, C. Govert, M. Suter, D. Krasoczka, Mr. Senderak, sponsor.

In commemorating the 200th birthday of the United States, the Debutees helped with the bicentennial display of the flags of the American Revolution. "The Debutees is a service club," stated Miss Helen Hopp, sponsor. "Each year we do as much as possible to help with collections and activities happening around the school and community." One such service was the giving of donations to the Muscular Dystrophy fund. The Debutees also served refreshments to the parents at Back-to-School night, along with sponsoring, planning, and putting on the Semi-Formal dance on December 7.

Deb's, display bicentennial flag

Although many of the activities of the Home Economics Club have been similar to previous years, a few new activities were included this year. Among them was the putting on of a Christmas party for the club. "Each year we try to have two fund-raising activities and a field trip," explained Miss Diane Alt, sponsor of the club. The two projects this year included the sponsoring of a Bake Sale on March 12th and also the selling of Favorite Recipes Cookbooks as Americana Cookery.

1. As a contrast experiment in Home Ec, Lisa Gray and Darlene Fasel paint color wheels.

2. At the Home Ec Christmas party, Donna LeRose gives Terri Horst some bingo chips before playing the game.

2. Juniors — Perry Spirich and Jim Sutherland spend their lunch hour working in the school store.

3. The 1975 Spanish Club consists of 95 members, sponsored by Miss Sharyl Mitchell.

The Business Club benefited the students and faculty of Hobart High by operating and maintaining a school bookstore. The store, opened both before school and during all three lunch hours, carried such items as pens, typing erasers and paper, ruled paper, lab aprons and even cough drops. This was a great help to those students who needed school supplies in a hurry. Although many of the things the Spanish Club took part in and sponsored were activities for themselves, their biggest community contribution was participating in the Jaycee's Car Wash April 17. Money earned from this function helped benefit the people of Guatemala. The club also took its annual field trip to Chicago April 1 where they spent the day touring the Art Institute, the Loop, and Spanish Town. To raise money for a Spanish Club Scholarship the club sold home-made piñatas and god's-eyes during basketball homecoming.

1. Spanish Club members Amy McSherry and Lisa Wojhoski sell baked goods on lunch hours to raise funds.
2. The Art Institute was one of the many things John Vinzant and Kurt Christofferson saw on Spanish Club's trip to Chicago.

German aids Guatamala with car wash

Showing kindheartedness and concern for their fellow man, the German Club sponsored a car wash for the Guatemala Relief Fund to aid those stricken by the earthquake. HHS interest was especially heightened because the disaster struck close to AFS student Ricardo Aguirre's hometown. The German Club also collected eyeglasses for the VOSH project to aid the visually handicapped in underdeveloped countries. Besides the day long field trip to Germantown, they raised money through a football concession stand.

The French Club took its annual trip to Chicago and dined in French restaurants in the Loop. During their meetings, they heard summer exchange student Paul Clayton relate his experiences in Switzerland, and also had Nuh Tas and Ricardo Aguirre as guest speakers.

1. A guide takes the French Club on a tour through the Art Institute telling them about each painting
2. Thirty-seven members in the 1975-76 French Club

Nostalgia will be a very special part of our future life. To look back at each class picture, to look in the index and find what page a picture of yourself might be on, and to leaf through the pages and look at old friends and old memories are just a few things we'll be able to do with our yearbooks.

Most students, though, are not thinking of this part of their future. As a matter of fact, the future is probably one of the furthest things from their minds. Talking, laughing, doing homework, showing affection, and just being together with other students is what goes on each day at Hobart High School. Each student has a different personality which draws them to a certain "clique" group, but does not limit them to it. A certain coherence draws these groups together to "Celebrate" people.

105 Seniors graduate in January mid-term

For the first time, seniors had the option of going either four, five, or six hours a day to school. This was readily taken advantage of by those seniors who had jobs or by those who just wanted to spend less time in school. The bicentennial class of 402 graduated 105 at January mid-term and the remaining 297 in spring. Taking first place in the spirit contest during football homecoming, the seniors also won the float competition with their entry of "Cannonball the Raiders." The Senior queens reigning this year at football and basketball homecoming were Cathy Ramage and Sharon McManus respectively.

1. ROTC award presented by Major Sims is given to Don Kapica at the Honor Convo.
2. The outstanding sophomore girl, Patty McCormack receives an award from Janet Sharp.
3. Spanish awards presented by Miss Mitchell went to Patty McCormack and Lanica Claxton.
4. Janet Sharp presents the Outstanding Sophomore Boy Award to Andy Herbach.
5. French award is given to Karen Kovich from Mrs. Janet Robbins, French teacher.
6. Miss Mitchell presents Becky Zander with a Spanish Award at the Honor Convo.
7. Congratulations are in order for Keirn Gawthrop when he is presented the history award by Mrs. Speer.

Three Juniors get Ball State scholarships

The Honors Convo for junior and sophomore students was highlighted by many awards. Some of the bigger honors went to the Outstanding Sophomores, Patty McCormack and Andy Herbach. The juniors chosen to go to Boys and Girls State were Keirn Gawthrop, Bill O'Brien, Terry Hamilton and Joe Galovic. Alternates were Jeff Lewis and Rick Harrigan. Girls State candidates were Tami Cope, Debbie Schavey, and Chris Wall. Alternates were Mary Lou Kolchak, Kitty Ewing, and Lori Handley. Music director Mr. Robert Zehr gave a number of awards; receiving the Outstanding Boy and Girl Awards were Peter Lara and Toni Covington. Their junior counterparts were Keirn Gawthrop and Chris Wall. Ball State scholarships went to Mark Wesley, Kathy Speer, and Leslie Schultz. Major Donald Sims gave awards to outstanding ROTC students Darren Chmelick, Mark Suter, and Don Kapica. AFS sponsor Miss Dorothy Thompson gave awards to Jim Law, Jim Blaney, and Amy McSherry. Mrs. Astrid Cicak gave art awards to four junior girls: Debbie Schavey, Lynn Cieskiewicz, Gwen Field, and Michelle Allan. French awards were received by Dona Christian, Angelo Batistatos, Andy Spontgen, Linda Garrard, and Karen Kovich. Spanish awards were given to Becky Zander, Patty McCormack, and Lanica Claxton. German awards were given to Chuck Mills, Eileen Oglesby, Tami Cope, and Debbie Schavey.

In preparation for the annual Football Homecoming float competition, a hard-working group of juniors put one together entitled, "We have no pity on Michigan City" to represent their class. The juniors participated in other activities such as supplying manpower to run the concession stand at home football and basketball games. There was also a committee that planned the Prom, making decisions regarding the date, place, theme, and the bands to play at both the Prom and the After-Prom. Class officers were Lynn Cieskiewicz, president; Amy McSherry, vice-president; Jamie Shinneman, secretary; and Terri Godfrey, treasurer. Football and Basketball Homecoming princesses were Lori Mitchell and Tammy Villa.

Jr. Class Officers. Jamie Shinneman, Sec., Amy McSherry, V Pres; Terri Godfrey, Treas., Lynn Cieskiewicz, Pres.

Class motto 'To have a friend, be one!'

The Sophomore Class of '78, consisting of 426 members, was responsible for the donation of $25 to the Student Council for the purchase of meat for the Christmas baskets for the needy. In addition to this, the sophomores sold Brickie key chains, worked a football concession stand, and supported fund raising projects for the prom. The class motto is "To have a friend, be one," and maroon and navy blue are the class colors. The class officers are Lori Sanders, president; Dona Christian, vice president; Carolyn Miracle, secretary; and Patti McCormack, treasurer.

Two sophomores, Patti McCormack and Ted Boruch take part in the fall play

School Board okays gymnasium and pool

With the approval of federal funds filed by the School Board, construction of the driver training range is now underway. The range, to be built on South Lake Park Avenue at the old Little League Field, will be ready for use at the beginning of the 1976-77 school year. The estimated cost is $175,000. In addition to the range, simulator-machine driving will be used. Twelve simulators will be placed on the upper floor of the remodeled concession stand. Besides building the range the School Board has approved the building of garages for school buses. These garages will be built near the driver training range.

Another addition to the high school will be a swimming pool, which will be built off the gym.

Mr. Paul Throne now holds the position of Coordinator of Special Services. It is his job to coordinate staff, citizens, resource people and service groups and agencies to deal with their special needs and to see to it that the job gets done in the most efficient way possible. He also sets up home visitations and staff conferences, provides a means of assistance for those with financial difficulties, assesses student needs, and helps with student attendance problems.

1. Decisions concerning the welfare of students is just one of the jobs of Principal Russell Deal.

2. At Back-to-School Night, Assistant Principal Bill Cope speaks with a concerned parent.

3. Time out between classes, Mrs. Rosalind Howell and Mrs. Elizabeth Christner break from pressures.

5. A school bus salesman gives Dr. Richard Abel facts and statistics about the new buses.

6. School is not all work as Mr. Walter Nabhan demonstrates while teasing students with the paddle.

Snack bar benefits on-the-run snackers

Mr. Charles Snow, Custodian Engineer, was in charge of the up-keep of the school. With a staff of ten, the interior and exterior of the school was kept clean and in a pleasant atmosphere. Among the many jobs required of Mr. Snow daily, was the making of keys for those students who had either lost or forgotten theirs, and keeping boilers and all mechanical equipment in operating condition. He and his staff also had to be prepared to handle any emergency that might arise daily.

The HHS library was opened during classes and lunch hours to provide students with materials and services according to needs. It also aided in teaching patrons the use of card catalogs, reading guides, etc. Mrs. Mary Bailey, Librarian, stated that the library was essential to widen reading experiences and increase appreciation of books and reading.

She was assisted by five students this year. Together they helped both students and faculty select books and visual aids to enrich the school program. A staff of 13 women, under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Smith served the students and faculty to an inexpensive Type A lunch. They also prepared satellite lunches to be sent out to five elementary schools. The lunches had to meet state requirements and also add nutritional value to make a better scholastic student. Besides serving hot lunches, a snack bar was put into use which included all types of goodies for the on-the-run snackers. Commented Mrs. Smith, "We enjoy seeing all the smiling faces and we really enjoy our job to serve all of you."

If you ever have a problem, see a school secretary. They generally have all the answers.

In the attendance office, Mrs. Sue Collins assisted Mr. Walter Nabhan by keeping a list of absentees, truants, and checking in-and-out students. She was aided by students assistants and produced a very efficient working system. In the main office, Mrs. Lucille Jakosh and Mrs. Shirley Jancarie shared the office duties. Both assisted Mr. Russell Deal, Principal. Alphabetizing and filing report cards, typing letters, and taking care of school business were some of their duties.

1. Serving the retiring Patterson Freidrich is Mrs. Luree Raymond during the spirit week

2. As secretary Mrs. Lucille Jakosh handles correspondence along with helping Sandy Gregor.

3. One of the many responsibilities of treasurer Shirley Jancarie was to sell tickets for fall events.

1. An often seen figure at Hobart High is handyman and janitor Charlie Snow, seen here making keys.
2. Discussing attendance records of students are Walter Nahban and secretary Mrs. Sue Collins.

Nine-month bargaining settles contracts

It took nine months of bargaining and negotiations between the teachers and the school Board to reach an agreement on the teachers' contract, which expired August 31. They decided to extend the contract when school began, and agreed to a compromise from both sides in October. The teachers got a 5.7% increase on starting base salary wage, an average of 16% increase in extra pay for extra services, and disability leave with pay. For the third year, teachers had Inservice Training, for the improvement of teaching methods, curriculums, and tutorial programs. Three new members of the faculty were added this year: Mrs. Shirley Coons, teaching English and replacing Mrs. Cathie Jacobs on her maternity leave; Mrs. Janet Robbins, a new guidance counselor, and coach of the girls' golf team; and Major Donald Sims, teaching ROTC in place of Col. Otis Henderson.

Picketing for teachers' wage increase are Boyd Scarborough and Ray Grivetti, expressing their view

When your locker gets slammed for the last time, and all your books are finally turned in, (or paid for), that's the time when most students celebrate. The end of school — sad in a few respects, not seeing friends again, and taking finals, is mostly a happy time for everyone. The Bicentennial celebrations carried through the year with the spirit of 200 years behind them. Students found ways to show their enthusiasm for the Bicentennial in nearly every kind of class. There were projects and activities that involved nearly everyone. None the less, the last days of school were spent tying up loose ends and enjoying the thought of vacation.

1. In Home Ec, Anita Popp serves Sandy Gregor some tea along with one of their international meals.

If you've never spent 18 hours on a train, ask one of the 45 students or 4 teachers who went on the trip to New York, it's a unique experience. The group was made up of mostly choir and dramatics students of all grades, but others went, too. Chaperones on the trip were Miss Sharyl Mitchell, Miss Cynthia Lach, Miss Shirley Mummaugh, Mr. Robert Zehr, and his wife. The group left on March 21 and came back March 27. While in New York City, they stayed at the Picadilly Hotel, but shopping and sight-seeing kept them out most of the time. They attended Broadway performances of "The Wiz," "Chicago," and "A Chorus Line." The group also went to Radio City Music Hall and saw "Robin and Marion." Everyone was allowed to see the show of their choice one evening, and many were entertained by "Pippin". As a group they also went to see a taping of "$20,000 Pyramid".

1. At St. Peter's Cathedral, where RFK's funeral was held, Junior Kathy Dubach lights a votive candle.
2. While waiting to embark on the long journey home, Amy Metz dozes in the Grand Central Station concourse.
3. The train's club car provided a place for students to gather and talk.
4. Waiting for the train, Mary Klos listens to Ricardo Aguirre play a song on his guitar.
5. Senior Mary Klos finds her own kind of entertainment on the train by playing the guitar.
6. A roadside vendor provides student with a snack as they wait to see a taping of the $20,000 Pyramid.

Choir, drama students visit New York

Four faculty members retire from HHS

Not only do many seniors leave the school mid-term, but a few teachers do, too. Mrs. Patterson Freidrich was one. After 13 years on the faculty teaching English and French on all levels, she retired. Mrs. Freidrich attended several universities, one of them Valparaiso, although she received a B.S. degree from the University of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Edith Wise, a member of the faculty for 15 years, retired at the end of the year. She taught classes in business, typing, and English. Mrs. Wise got her B.S. Degree from Ball State University. School librarian Mrs. Mary Bailey left after 32 years at Hobart and several at other schools, too. Mrs. Bailey will continue doing volunteer work at the hospital and her church. Mr. Mark Pflughoeft resigned after eight years on the faculty as teacher of both biology and chemistry. He received his B.S. and M.A. degrees from Valparaiso University. Mr. Pflughoeft will be going into the ministry at a Lutheran Church.

1. Sophomores Branka Dujakovic and Cheryl Crosier watch Mrs. Wise open a gift from their English class.
2. French and Composition teacher Mrs. Freidrich displays the cake given her by her third hour class.
3. Students whoop it up at the class' going away party for Mr. Pflughoeft.
4. Looking over class papers is one of the few duties Mr. Pflughoeft will miss as he retires from HHS.
5. In the quiet atmosphere of the school library, Mrs. Bailey enjoys her Appreciation Day carnation.

Well, what can I say besides I'm glad it's all over? Although everything didn't turn out the way we wanted it to, we did manage to complete another edition of the MEMORIES Yearbook. Pictures being ruined, incorrectly done layouts, and inadequate staff members, including myself, were several reasons why we didn't meet any deadlines. Putting aside all these difficulties, there were some rewarding factors I experienced throughout the year. Learning to accept responsibility and cope with different people and different situations has made me thankful to have had the opportunity to be the Editor of the 1976 MEMORIES Yearbook.

This yearbook is a complete student publication except for the color pictures in the opening section. I would like to thank and acknowledge the following: the staff for their time, effort, and work; Victor Studio for the senior portraits and the color pictures in the opening; and our Adviser Miss Cynthia Lach for her help and advise throughout the year. A special thanks goes to Phil Fugate for all the help, ideas, and work he's given me and for making this year bearable.
